COUNCILMAN WALSH MISSING

RUSH EXECUTE CHILDERS DE VALERA WATCHED

BRICKLEY DELAYS 'GRAFT' HEARING

Excused From Testifying Today Until His Counsel Can Prepare His Case

Judge M. F. Kennedy today appeared before the Finance Commission for Councilor David J. Brickley and asked that his client be excused from appearing at the "graft" hearing until they had opportunity to prepare their case.

Attorney John C. L. Dowling, acting for the commission, granted this request and then the commissioners decided that Captain Brickley should appear Tuesday morning.

Neither Brickley nor Councilor William J. Walsh appeared at the hearing. Constables are searching for Walsh, who is reported as being "out of town."

The hearing resumed at 5 o'clock. The case is to continue next week.

BOY OF 5 FALLS OFF HIGH CLIFF AND DIES
New London, Nov. 24.—John five-year-old son of John Lebeaux, of Spring, fell off a sixty-foot cliff today. He died in a hospital here later. His skull was fractured.

16-YEAR GIRL BUYS SUITOR'S CLOTHES

Springfield, Nov. 24.—Sarah Levy, sixteen years old, convicted last May of bootlegging and placed on probation, was brought here today from Waterbury, Ct., to which city she is alleged to have eloped last Wednesday with John Lacey, twenty, a union room employer, for whom she purchased raiment at a cost of $120 from her savings.

Miss Levy, it was brought out last May, had accumulated savings amounting to $1,500. This total, the police say, has now grown to $4,000. She will face a court charge of violating her probation. Lacey is held in Waterbury on a charge of violating the Mann act.

URGES DISCHARGE OR ERRING OFFICER
Police Commissioner Frank D. Stevens of Malden announced today that he had recommended the dismissal from the force of Patrolman Daniel E. Riley. Riley was recently suspended for jaywalking. Shortly after his suspension expired, it was found he had left his beat and gone to Everett.

Wife Collapses When Told Childers is Put to Death by Free State
Dublin, Nov. 24.—It was understood here this afternoon Free State military authorities had learned the whereabouts of Eamon de Valera and that he was under close surveillance. He recently threatened a new outbreak of bloodshed if Childers was executed. It is believed if Childers is executed he will be regarded in Civil Court rather than in a court-martial.

By International News Service.
Dublin, Nov. 24.—Erskine Childers, chief aide of Eamon de Valera in the Irish Republican movement, was executed at 7 o'clock today by a Free State firing squad.

Official announcement of the execution was made shortly afterward by the Free State Cabinet.

It was a rare, foggy morning, with a cold wind blowing, when Childers was led from his cell in the Kilmainham Jail on the outskirts of the city. Escorting by a little group of Free State soldiers, Childers was quickly taken into the jail yard.

The firing squad was lined up, a handkerchief was tied across the face of the prisoner, and he was placed with his back against the wall. Half a dozen shots rang out. Childers crumpled and fell. A doctor continued on Page 13, Column 1.

CRIES FOR WHISKEY TO SAVE DYING BABE

William Curtin drove along Boston street, Salem. A woman ran before him machine screaming. Her hair hung down her back, tears were in her eyes and she wailed on hysterics. "Help, Whiskey!" she could say no more. Curtin found that her three-months baby boy was dying. A doctor had told the mother he couldn't take the case and advised whiskey. Patrolman John Busk notified headquarters. They started for whiskey. So did Curtin. Some was finally procured. It came too late. The boy was dead. The mother is Mrs. Josephine Brault, of No. 60 Grove street, Salem.

100 LIVES SAVED BY FLAG OF U. S.

The American flag saved more than a hundred lives during the burning of Smyrna, and if it had more flags, more lives would have been saved, said Theodore Bartoli, Valera is arrested he will be regarded in Civil Court rather than in a court-martial.

N. Y. POLICE MOVE TO EXPEL KU KLUXERS

New York, Nov. 24.—The first step by Police Commissioner Enright today on receiving a telegraphic order yesterday by Mayor Hylan from French Lick Springs to drive the Ku Klux Klan out of New York was to order the telegram printed as a circular and distributed throughout the department.

BATTLE RAGES IN GALWAY STREETS

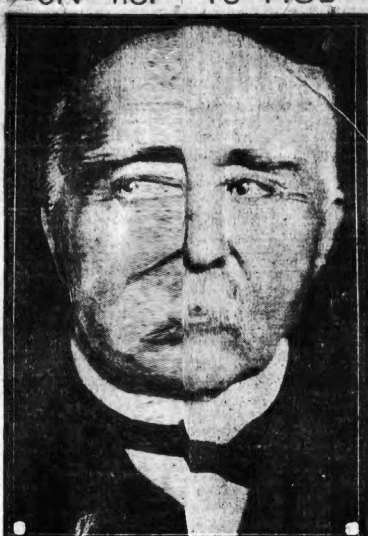

Dublin, Nov. 24. (By International News Service).—Heavy fighting in the streets between Free State and irregular troops was reported from Galway this afternoon. The irregular commander at Galway, General Killy, has been captured.

PROVIDENCE POLICE IN BIGGEST SHAKEUP

Providence, Nov. 24.—Rumblings of trouble between the police commissioners and Peter F. Gilmartin, superintendent of police materialized today in the resignation of Gilmartin, the best known police officer in the State of Rhode Island. His resignation is expected to be followed by the biggest shake-up in the department in years. Gilmartin's resignation becomes effective December 23.

The Board of Police Commissioners appointed Deputy Superintendent William O'Neill to take Gilmartin's place, and his place is to be filled by Chief of Inspectors John T. Maguire. James Ahern, captain of inspectors, is moved up to take Maguire's post.

STILLMAN LOSE FIGHT AGAIN

New York, Nov. 24.—James Stillman, New York banker, today failed in his efforts to have a light-weight pugilist, who was stabbed in the back on the night of November 14 during a fight in a bowling alley, died in the Emergency hospital this morning.

The banker's lawyers now must apply to the appellate division for permission to carry an appeal from today's decision to the Court of Appeals. The appellate division in Brooklyn affirmed the order of Supreme Court Justice Beeger, who refused to set aside Justice Morehouse's confirmation of the report, in which Beeger said that Stillman was charged with conspiracy with Fred Bauwilde, Indiana guide.

Clemenceau Replies to Borah and Hitchcock Before He Addresses Temple Crowd

Clemenceau, the "Tiger of France," who pats America with padded paws, and, anon, unsheds claws of criticism, made his formal Boston address in Tremont Temple today.

This was the second set speech in his cycle of argument by which he hopes to win America to his view on post-war procedure.

Hot replies to U. S. Senators Hitchcock and Borah were made by Clemenceau in an interview prior to his Tremont Temple address. He challenged Hitchcock to find anyone in Europe who would call Clemenceau a militarist.

The Hitchcock statement that France keeps black troops in Germany against German wishes he said was "more German propaganda," that he had seen American black troops at the front. He added that there were no Senegalese soldiers on German soil today. He wished Senator Borah, with Hitchcock, would visit France.

Thousands saw and heard the visitor from France. The auditorium was jammed, floor and balcony, to the last bit of room. Many who had no tickets and no hope, therefore, of gaining admission, crowded about the main entrance to the Temple on Tremont street to catch a glimpse of the speaker on arrival.

Governor Cox, presiding at the meeting, introduced Clemenceau with Turn Over.

Harding to Ku Klux
"I Don't Agree With You"
The King's Wisdom
"Romp Home"
By Arthur Brisbane

PRESIDENT HARDING, apparently, does not share the view of the Ku Klux that Catholics are a menace to the United States. Mr. Pierce Butler, yesterday nominated Associate Justice of the Supreme Court by the President, is a member of the Roman Catholic Church, and a first class legal mind leader.

That nomination is as good an answer as any that could be made to religious prejudice, one of several things that this country does not want.

THE ENGLISH KING solemnly opens the new Parliament. Lord Law takes Lloyd George's place. Lloyd George is chosen head of the Liberal party, the place in which Gladstone fought for so long.

The King wisely inspired, emphasizes above all the fact that something must be done to help the unemployed and to stimulate trade.

He knows the truth in President's statement, "Monarchies are destroyed by poverty, republics by wealth." And also he sees the Labor party not far from dominating the imperial government.

ON THE Maryland race track yesterday a horse called Romping Home won. Two dollars given over to him in the gambling game brought in $151.50. The few that won will be called "lucky" by their friends. Or more among them will probably come the day that Romping Home made money for them.

The best thing that can happen to a gambler is to lose until he is cured. No man but a thief ever made money at gambling in the long run.

THE NATIONAL Committee for the Prevention of Blindness issues this week.

First, wood alcohol, often mixed with bootleg whiskey, causes blindness.

Second, so-called "simple tests" supposed to detect wood alcohol in the whiskey, are worthless. Because men believe in such tests, a number of deaths and blindness from wood alcohol have doubled in the last year.

To be safe from wood alcohol, have nothing to do with bootleg whiskey, or any whiskey. A great American industry just now is manufacturing labels and bottles that persuade fools to exchange their money for dangerous poisons.

FRIENDS OF THE CAR, safely gathered in Paris, have selected the Grand Duke Nicholas, once commander-in-chief of the Russian army, to succeed the late Czar on the throne. They declare that the masses will restore the monarchy. The curious thing is that they probably will when the grip of Trotsky and Lenin gets weaker.

Monarchy usually comes back once or twice, anywhere. It came back several times in France, after the revolution, before Frenchmen settled down to a Republic.

MR. ALONZO B. SEE, who makes elevators for a living, was asked to contribute to a woman's college. He appears in print with the statement that girls' colleges ought to be burned.

TURK IN THRACE TO BE CLOSELY WATCHED

Cincinnati, Nov. 24.—A train load of turkeys worth close to $500,000 in the retail market will leave Cincinnati tonight for Boston and New York. The gobblers, 60,000 in number and dressed, will be housed in refrigeration cars.

The train will be made up from shipments received here. The retail prices of turkeys in Cincinnati today is from 85 to 95 cents a pound.

LAURENCE, Nov. 24 (By International News Service).—Eastern Thrace, the slice of European territory that the Turks obtain as a result of their military victory over the Greeks, will be bounded by a demilitarized zone in which the Turks may not maintain troops nor establish forts. It was decided today by the Near East peace conference sub-committee handling military and political affairs.

This sub-committee, headed by General Wyndham, chief of staff to General Poole, was appointed by the general committee on military, political and territorial matters. Premier Moustakfouk of Bulgaria made formal request that the port of Varna be restored to Bulgaria, a territorial "corridor" connecting the port with the southeastern Bulgarian frontier. This petition received support from the allies, chief of Italy, and the participating Balkan states as well.

Declare Sultan's Wives Are Well Cared For
Lausanne, Nov. 24 (By International News Service).—The Turkish peace delegates, replying to insinuations from the press, declared today it was untrue that the 300 women left behind when the Sultan fled Constantinople were starving. It was declared these women are being properly cared for, and will be until their final disposition is settled.

Florence Walton to Wed Her Dancing Partner at Xmas

New York, Nov. 24.—Florence Walton, during a dinner at her home here, announced that she will be married Christmas week to Leon Lettrini, her present dancing partner. This ends the rumors of a possible reconciliation and remarriage of the dancer and Florence Walton, her former husband, Maurice Heaver, internationally known as Maurice Lettrini, who was born in Tills, Russia, is a son of the late Count Krasinsky. He came to New York about six years ago and first appeared as a violinist. When Maurice went into the ambulance service during the war, Mrs. Walton selected Lettrini as a dancing partner, and they have continued to be associated professionally ever since.

MOVIE WORLD NEWS AND GOSSIP

A JURY of writers and artists selected the likenesses of C. H. Croker-King as the most expressive of musing faces. The man, 47, headed by George Bernard Shaw, is a goliath in the world of movie producers to present Mr. Croker-King in a series of two-reelers that shall reproduce the Latin, Norman, German and French rustic plays of various periods, from which undoubtedly the fantastic grotesque sculptures of the Middle Ages were derived.

The actor comes of a noted Irish family, being related to John Croker, the wit and critic, and to the late chairman of Treasury Hall, New York. Dr. W. Griffith offered his entrance into films through the role of the Neighbor in "One Exciting Night," now playing Tremont Temple, after seeing the remarkably similar work as the Doctor in "Falling Drums." The face that could frighten children is partly natural and partly acquired. Croker-King had a long schooling with Sir Henry Irving and Sir Herbert Tree, playing fantastic Shakespearean roles, especially those of "Merry Wives of Windsor," "Richard III," "Hamlet" and "Julius Caesar." He also had a famous character role in "Tilly" and doubled for Tree as Sympson.

"KNIGHTHOOD" HUNCH WINS. THUNDER may be nothing in a name but employee of Cosmopolitan Productions who believe in "hunches" are ready to swear by "Knighthood," a two-year-old colt, owned by A. C. Hotwick, which plumed home a winner in the first race at Pimlico. Adam DeMuerle, one of Cosmopolitan's assistant cameramen, figured that "When Knighthood Was in Fashion," starring Martin Davies, the Cosmopolitan picture, now playing capacity at the Park Theatre, was such a winner that a horse named "Knighthood" just couldn't lose. His "hunch" was followed by others.

When "Knighthood" came home winner the personnel machine paid $32.88—$14.76—$4.46, and DeMuerle and the other "hunch" players at Cosmopolitan Studio all have fat wallets.

LORELEI BACK IN FILMS. WILLIAM J. LORELEI, one of the first leading men in pictures and who has been in retirement for the last three years, has been engaged for the role of Major Hensley in Cosmopolitan's production of "The Go Getter," a Peter B. Kyne story, directed by E. H. Griffith from the scenario of John Lynch. Steven Owen and T. Roy Barnes are featured. Before going into pictures Lorelei appeared with Richard Mansfield and E. H. Sedgwick on the legitimate stage. He was a member of the old Kalam and Edison companies and was featured in "The Death of the Man Without a Country," "The Little Rebel" and other old standbys. Later he joined Famous Players and appeared as leading man for a number of years, including Marguerite Clark.

A Smooth, White Skin That Defies Weather
Merivall was known white lovely

During the coming months of bitter winds and intense cold, you who would keep your skin smooth, white and velvety, should turn your attention to Merivall. Was you, like my Dearborn Supply Co., Chicago, thinking this will not effectively prevent or remove a chapped, roughened or discolored surface. By gently absorbing the weather-beaten cuticle, the complexion is kept in perfect condition, and even the heaviest of freckles soon appear more pronounced.

If your skin be chapped, itchy, pimply, cracked, raw or sore, use Merivall. It is a natural skin cream, and it is so called. Was, to be had at any drugstore, will completely transform the most unattractive complexion in less than a fortnight. Use this was night, like cold cream, washing it off mornings.

'K. K. K.' FIGHTS WAR ROMANCE NOMINATION OF TECH MAN OF BUTLER

Washington, D. C. Nov. 24.—It is rumored about the Capitol that the Ku Klux Klan is raising strenuous objections to the appointment by President Harding of Pierce Butler, the St. Paul attorney, as associate justice of the United States Supreme Court, because Mr. Butler is of the Catholic faith. Senators state that the Klan's influence had not reached the Senate thus far.

Mr. Butler's name has been presented to the Senate to succeed William D. Jay, who has resigned to become justice of the German Mixed Claims Commission.

The nomination of Mr. Butler, a Democrat and a Catholic, was a surprise, as it was expected that the President would name Senator Charles McNamara of Tennessee for the place. The report of the Senate Judiciary Committee on Mr. Butler's nomination is expected on Monday.

An investigation was begun today into charges that Klu Klux Klan has been using government buildings, including the United States Capitol building, in which to conduct its secret initiation ceremonies.

TURKEY PRICES UNDER PROBE

of food costs during the past year, and especially corn, which has declined from 98 cents per bushel to 88 cents per bushel, the price of turkeys in the Boston market is practically the same this year as last year.

"Should the present high prices be maintained either by the farmers or the jobbers, it will act as a boomerang to their financial loss. With the boycott of turkey by many Massachusetts families this Thanksgiving, and the forced carrying over of large stocks, together with the enormous amount of turkeys already in warehouse, fresh turkeys will be attracted to this market from all over the country for Christmas and the people will be able to get their 'Christmas turkey' at a reasonable price. Lower turkey prices should prevail and the commission believes that conditions will force a drop in the turkey market during the next forty-eight hours."

SAME AS LAST YEAR.

Mr. Hultman said that a cursory investigation leads him to believe that the conditions are unchanged from last year. A recent report by Director Herman G. Lythgoe of the State Division of Food and Drugs showed there is even more turkey in the cold storage warehouses than the "enormous amount" referred to by Mr. Hultman a year ago.

He said then that the Vermont turkey flocks the prices for all other turkeys has been as high, the turkey is a relatively small amount of all the turkey offered for sale in the holiday season.

TURKEYS SENT TO VERMONT.

He estimates that 25 per cent. of the turkey contained in this State comes from Texas, 25 per cent. from Kentucky, 35 per cent. from the Western States and 17 per cent. from the northern New England States, principally Vermont.

"Some of the Vermont turkey," he said, "is sent to Vermont for fattening before being sold in this State. The agents of the packers go into other turkey districts, buy their stock in the summer and ship it to central points for fattening."

"A good deal of the price is taken up in profit by numerous middlemen. We then attempted to ascertain the sale price by the Texas farmers but no one was ready to co-operate with us in finding that fact."

"The turkey problem is interesting and peculiar. We raise practically none here. Dr. Lythgoe figures the amount in stores is sufficient to furnish a Thanksgiving meal for one family in fifty-three and if all of the fifty-three go out to buy the one bird, they certainly are going to force the price up."

"I will have the facts ready on the entire situation to state them to the public early next week," he said. "I will report them as I find them, just as I did a year ago."

TRIED TO RUN DOWN COPS, FINED $125

It costs $125 to drive an auto while drunk, within the jurisdiction of Lynn Court.

Today John E. Craig of Portsmouth, N. H., and Hugh A. Kelley of No. 50 Cambridge Terrace, Cambridge, were each fined $125 for trying to run down moonshine and gin.

The latter nearly knocked two "Lyn" coppers into Kingston Court before he hit a tree, wrecked his machine and made it necessary to call the fire department. The car was made his truck walk Charlie Chaplin fashion through Lynn streets before he was steered to police headquarters.

Both men were given time to pay.

GERMAN CHIEF DEMANDS BIG LOAN ABROAD

Berlin, Nov. 24 (By International News Service).—Germany, under the new Cuno Cabinet, will demand foreign credits of $200,000,000 gold marks approximately ($100,000,000) and four years "complete freedom" from the obligations of the treaty of Versailles, Chancellor Wilhelm Cuno announced in the Reichstag this afternoon.

The new Chancellor said his government unconditionally induces the German note of November 13 to the Inter-Allied Reparations Commission and was determined to carry it out.

This note set forth financial needs and reforms of Germany and the conditions upon which Germany wanted outside help.

The hope that the United States "can at last be brought to understand the seriousness of the German economic situation and that American financial interests will assist Germany in meeting her obligations" was voiced by the Chancellor, "We promise immediate action for stabilization of the mark" continued Chancellor Cuno. "Shortly we shall demand $200,000,000 gold marks from

Says Argonne Could Have Been Won in 3 Days

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—Lieutenant-General Hunter Liggett, retired, speaking before adjutant-generals from states in the North Army Corps Area, said:

"If Congress had provided funds so that America might have been prepared, the great American troops who won the battle of the Argonne in many days of costly fighting would have smashed through on the third day, would have taken two whole divisions of German prisoners and would have ended the war in the most brilliant victory in history."

GIRL ACCUSES WHICH WAY TO BOWL? HERE'S ANSWER

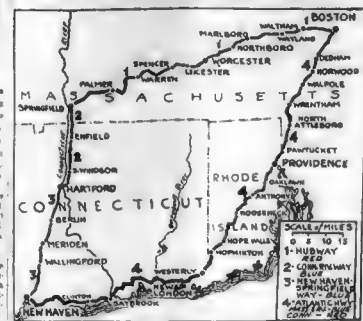

OFFICER AFTER RAID

Lawrence, Nov. 24.—Following a raid on a Valley street lodging house, where Mary Jane Houley was arrested in company with eighteen-year-old Alfrida Brown of Lawrence, Me., it was announced that a member of the traffic squad of the Lawrence police will be in court to deal on serious charges.

Three charges were made by Miss Houley after her arrest. It is said statements made by the Brown girl led the police to arrest Arthur Butler, with whom she is said to have been living for two weeks.

When the two girls were arrested in the District Court before Judge Mahoney, City Marshal Timothy J. O'Brien announced that a prominent traffic officer was implicated in the case. He asked a continuance, pending which he promised to question the officer, and it was granted.

Miss Houley, who gave her address as No. 18 Hillside avenue, Lawrence, Me., said she left her husband there about a week ago and came to Lawrence to see her child. She had met the policeman in question.

FATAL SALE OF RACHMANOFF DRUGS PROBED IN NOTABLE RECITAL

An inquest to determine whether a drug clerk was guilty of criminal negligence in selling Jacob Feller, of No. 269 Summer street, Lynn, a bottle of barium sulphate instead of barium sulphate, was held before Judge Ralph W. Rowe at Lynn. A finding is expected next week.

Feller, it is said, was ordered by a physician to drink a dose of the sulphate solution, which is harmless, to prepare his stomach for an X-ray examination. He went to a Lynn drug store and asked for the solution, receiving instead, it is charged, a quantity of sulphur, which is poisonous.

Forty-five minutes after drinking the solution he was dead.

If criminal negligence is found, it was intimated, warrants would be issued immediately.

When there are admitted few, if any greater.

The two numbers written by the artist Miodine and Bess have proved charming in theme and handling. The contrast was delightful with both of them.

The two coming numbers—the last studies—were splendid.

BEST ROUTES TO YALE GAME INDICATED

Which way to the Yale hotel? That is the question that thousands of football enthusiasts are asking today and will be asking tomorrow as they carry a copy of the Boston American with them.

The two best routes to the annual clash at Yale hotel, between Harvard and Yale have been outlined on the map.

The colored markings on the poles throughout the trip have been designed by numbers on the map. Number 1, on the map, indicates the red poles; number 2 the blue poles; number 3 the blue poles on a different route and number 4 the red poles on another highway.

A statement issued by Frank A. Johnston, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, requests unusual care on the part of motorists who drive to New Haven to the Harvard Yale game.

During the Yale game week-end two cars ago, he notified all motor owners were killed and sixty injured in auto accidents. Ninety motor vehicle men of the State police will be on duty this week on Massachusetts roads leading to New Haven, he adds and any cases of speeding, careless driving or operating under the influence of liquor will be dealt with summarily.

CHILDERS SHOT, MANY SAY FAMON DE VALERA MAY BE NEXT

IRISH LEADER'S CHIEF AIDE GAME TO THE LAST

Persons who saw the execution said that Childers died game and that his courage stayed with him to the last. He made no plea for mercy. DECLINES SURVIVOR.

A priest was present and asked Childers if he would like to be sent to be administered. Childers hesitated and then replied he did not.

Relative were not allowed to visit the condemned man in his cell and Mrs. Childers did not know her husband was dead until noon, when it was officially informed by the commanding general of the Free State army.

She fainted upon hearing the news. Childers was informed at 5 o'clock Thursday night to prepare for his death. He was told that he was to be executed shortly after daybreak Friday (today). The priest for his solemn for a time and promised violently against such summary proceedings. Later he calmed down. He was asked if he wished a clergyman to remain in his cell throughout the night to pray with him.

"No," replied Childers. "Do not send him in."

Mrs. Childers was reported in nervous condition when she arrived at the prison. The sons and sisters of Childers and the government officials and relatives, that the lady be turned over to the law in this country. He had shortly after the execution a brief communique was issued saying: "Eamon Childers was duly convicted by a Free State court-martial of poisoning arms for purposes of rebellion against the Irish government. He was sentenced to death. The sentence was confirmed. This morning it was carried out."

It is understood the Free State army had threatened to muzzle if Childers was released.

SPECTACULAR EXECUTION. Childers was one of the most active and spectacular leaders among the Free State before the Free State government was created.

After the overthrow of the Free State he threw his lot with De Valera. Together with a dozen other active followers, they organized the irregular army to fight the Free State, then led by Michael Collins.

Childers had command of a band of southern guerrillas on the west coast, and it was in this band that he was killed. He was shot by a Free State soldier while he was leading his band of guerrillas on a raid on a Free State camp.

CAPTURED TWO WEEKS AGO. Childers was captured two weeks ago near Wicklow, while attending an irregular "war council" with De Valera and several others. They were understood to be planning a coup in Dublin at this date.

Childers was brought to Dublin and secretly held before a court-martial. Owing to the refusal of the government to issue any official statement, the public knows almost nothing of the execution.

In Irish Warfare

FAMON DE VALERA. WILLIAM T. COUGRAVE.

Republic leader is now under the watch following execution of Childers, whom Cougrave, president of the Free State, pursued to the death.

to the disposition of the guerrilla's chief.

His sister claimed that he had been shot to death secretly. This was disproved when attorneys representing Childers went into court seeking a writ of habeas corpus to test the validity of the court-martial that condemned him.

While the proceedings were under way a report became current that Childers and eight other irregular prisoners had been deported to Ascension Island in the South Atlantic.

APPEAL TO COURT FAIR. The court ruled against Childers in the late as corpus proceedings. Childers' counsel gave notice of an appeal and meanwhile the formal death warrant was read to Childers in his cell.

Childers is the latest victim of the "iron policy" of the Free State government, headed by William T. Cougrave, President of the Dublin government. Appeals were made in the prisoner's behalf by prominent residents of both Ireland and England, but the government refused to heed them. Irish officials argued that to show weakness now would be to court further disorder and bloodshed.

The stern policy of the present government is even more drastic than that of Michael Collins, who claimed that any show of leniency would only make the situation worse.

"DE VALERA NEXT." It is confidently predicted now that Eamon De Valera himself will be a "renegade Englishman" taken to Free State custody. The regular leaders are being rounded up one by one, both on and off the island.

Childers, although an Englishman by birth, was one of the most active enemies of England in all Ireland. He was a man who had caused much trouble when his irregular army was active.

In the laborer corps proceedings at the Free State court-martial of Childers was held under which the court-martial was conducted and appealed for a Free State court-martial under the regulations of the English army.

Childers was 33 years old. He did not have the appearance of a soldier. He was a man of fine, slender build and walked with a limp. His forehead bulged out under a mass of hair that was seldom combed. When he talked of the English his voice rose to a shrill, CALLED "RENEGADE."

Childers had served both in the English army and in the English army, a fact that led the English army to call him a "renegade Englishman."

It was not until 1917, when he first met De Valera, that he espoused the Irish Republican cause with heart and soul.

In his bitter opposition to ratification of the treaty for establishment of the Irish Free State he was one of the most active leaders of the British Republic. But in the section for the South Irish Republic he was overruling the ratification of the treaty for establishment of the Irish Free State he was one of the most active leaders of the British Republic.

It is said that the execution of Childers will lead to a recurrence of the disorder of last night when the Free State broke out in the center of the city, killing, burning, and looting.

TRUCK KILLED IN FIGHT. A last Free State patrol, which was killed and many persons wounded. The truck was shot down after daybreak but not until heavy forces of Free State soldiers had been shown the truck and sent to patrol the streets.

The fighting was believed to have been precipitated by regulars in protest against the adverse verdict in the laborer corps proceedings in Childers' case.

"Tragedy of the Ages," declared Mrs. Scantlan.

The execution of Eamon Childers in Ireland has aroused considerable comment among leading Irish people of the State. Mrs. Frank C. Scantlan, national vice-president of the American Association of the Irish Republic, said:

"The tragedy of the ages. To take a man like that of Childers from the world is too terrible. And in such a tragedy is that the civilized nations of the world should stand by and allow might to conquer right. Nations has always stood for right, but in the first time that it has allowed might to win."

"AN ABLE AND JUST MAN." "Childers was an able and a just man. The people of the civilized world should rise up against this revival of the Dark Ages. When the United States took Cuba, we did not stop to think of Spain as a friendly nation. We went ahead and took Cuba and organized it in a government like our own. What has caused the attitude in this country that does not recognize Ireland and that is fighting for freedom like ours?"

W. H. O'Brien, prominent Irish worker of Boston, said:

"It is nothing but frightful murder. Childers has been referred to as a 'renegade Englishman.' If he is such, then every man and woman that is in this country from England is a renegade."

CHILDERS A MARTYR. "Childers has gone to join the martyrs of the ages. John of Arc, Nathan Hale and others. Would it had there were more men such as Childers in the world, in Ireland, America. But his execution is also a tragedy for the world. I do not yet ready to agree that my race is the only white race in the world that is not fit to govern itself."

Mrs. Monica Foley, widely-known Irish sympathizer, said:

"The murder of Mr. Childers is an indictment against the present government of Ireland. It is deplorable that a man of his ability and brains should be lost to the world which needs men of his type. The world has all too few of men who had the inherent ability of Mr. Childers. Words fail a person at a time such as this."

John P. Fitzgerald, former Mayor of Boston, said: "It is a question that is but one of the many that Ireland must settle for itself. I do not believe that the United States should interfere."

HARRIS' COMMENTS. John P. Harrigan, State President of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, said:

"It is indeed pathetic that in the bloodiest of vengeance against men and women who refuse to bow to the yoke of English tyranny the life of Eamon Childers has been taken. He was a person who put human right and liberty above personal safety. I know that in condemning this brutal execution of Eamon Childers I voice the true heart of American freedom, who love heroic sacrifice for freedom and I am convinced that this double and cowardly execution will cause such reaction that the Irish Republic will speedily emerge victorious from the conflict."

Annie MacSwiney Taken to Hospital. Dublin, Nov. 24 (By the Associated Press).—Miss Annie MacSwiney, who had fasted outside the gates of Mountjoy prison since last Friday as a protest against the imprisonment of her sister Mary, was removed to friends last evening to a private nursing home. She was in a very weak condition, but refused to take food and only swallowed some water.

Childers, War Hero, Was Nephew of Sir Hugh

Lieutenant-Commander Erskine Childers, to use the military title he has been made for his widow, was in the Irish War, was brought up as a boy with the Barton family near Dublin. He was born in 1878.

His mother was an Irish girl from County Wick. On his father's side Childers was nephew of the late Sir Hugh Childers, who was Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Gladstone Cabinet.

He was educated at Harburg and at Trinity College, Cambridge University. He studied law for a while in London, but was typically English.

He entered the house of Commons in 1904. He was not only a member of the Liberal party, but also a member of the Irish Republican party.

At this time Childers met Sir Horace Plunkett and Charles Russell and became involved in the Irish cooperative movement. He put his knowledge of law and political science to use in the movement.

CHILDERS FACED DEATH GLADLY, SAYS WIDOW

Erskine Childers was prepared to "face death gladly" for the Irish Republic, his widow, Mrs. Childers, said today in a statement made for his widow, Mrs. Mary Childers, of Dublin.

Mrs. Childers is a daughter of the late Dr. Hamilton O'Connell of Marlborough street. Another daughter of Dr. O'Connell was Mrs. Childers' sister, Mrs. Gertrude O'Connell, wife of Professor Blake Warren, who was killed in the Easter Rising.

Mrs. Childers said her husband was a man of great courage and a man of great courage. He was a man of great courage and a man of great courage.

of the Boston Postman, are now in Dublin. Mrs. Childers is an invalid, but even when confined to her bed has been a tireless worker for the Irish Republic. She had part in the famous gun-running affair at Howth. In her latest statement Mrs. Childers said:

"My husband, in all his work for the Irish Republic, has given his life without reservation, and will gladly face anything in more for him. His faith is based on the belief that only the granting of independence can settle the age-long Irish question. Free men cannot be expected to give submission to a treaty imposed upon them by threats of an immediate and terrible war. My husband is proud to have served the Republic. He is willing to give his life for the Republic if necessary. He is right in that this is the right attitude and I stand behind him in this belief."

ACTRESS, SEPARATED FROM RICH MATE, SCRUBS FLOORS

BUT PRETTY HELEN BURCH WANTS NO DIVORCE

By Compulsion News Service.
New York, Nov. 24.—Copper-haired and hazel-eyed Helen Burch, who was one of Washington's most beautiful brides of the last war season, was busy today scrubbing out an article in Frederick's which she plans to furnish and heat herself, her furnished room being too cold.

Between scrubs she admitted she has been separated for some time from her rich husband, William Henry Pickford, son of a Washington hotel owner and confidant she has no present intention of returning to him.

Young Pickford, who was attached during his stay abroad to the Swiss legation and who is now believed to be in California, is well known in diplomatic and social circles.

Ted Noyes of Washington was best man at the wedding.
DENIES DIVORCE PLANS.

She was ascertained, however, that Mrs. Burch has retained J. M. Sullivan lawyer of the Knickerbocker Building, to act for her in some connection with her separation from young Pickford.

"I am not at liberty to talk about the matter," Mr. Sullivan said after admitting he was acting as counsel for Miss Burch.

Miss Burch before her marriage was an actress. She is not on the stage now, but village friends of hers are looking for a job—possibly a part in a Broadway production—having refused offers to act on the road.

Both Miss Burch and Mr. Pickford's families are living in Washington and the parents of both are said to be irritated by the turn the romance has taken.

ATTORNEY SCORES CITY MARSHAL
Lawrence Nov. 24.—Marshal Timothy J. O'Brien today was branded as "dynamically unfair" by Attorney P. J. Mahoney for prosecuting Frank L. Dwyer, suspended from the police force for raiding the lunch cart of Fred Holt and other places, and the alleged larceny of $15 and $4 from gambling machines.

Marshal O'Brien was scored after he had reviewed his charges at a hearing before Commissioner Peter Carr. He accuses the officer of making the raids without authority and then with taking the machines home and keeping them there with out making any report to his superiors.

LANDLADY WINS VICTORY OVER OPERA DIVA

New York, Nov. 24.—Although she failed in her attempt to evict Mrs. Marie Rapold, grand opera prima donna, because she sang too loudly in her apartment at the Colonial Studios, Mrs. Isabel Vernon Cook, the landlady, did not surrender and her persistence resulted in a partial victory in her application for an injunction.

Superior Court Justice Warner decided that she should be permitted to remain in her apartment and Mrs. Rapold's apartment and Mrs. Rapold's apartment should be closed to her if it was in the way of her singing.

200 FAMILIES SUE CITY FOR TO BE GIVEN FREE COAL

More than 200 families will be given a supply of free coal tomorrow by the Volunteers of America. The fuel distributing will come at 1:30 p. m. from the headquarters of the organization at No. 35 Howard street.

The scarcity of anthracite coal has caused much suffering among needy families where the condition of the kitchen range will not permit the use of softest coal, coke or other substitutes. A number of aged and sick persons will benefit by the free distribution.

Colonel Walter Duncan, commander of the Volunteers, announced his plans for Winter relief work, stated in addition to a regular free distribution of coal, he will have the largest Thanksgiving observance held by the organization and estimates that more than 1,000 dinners will be provided. At Christmas shows will be given to needy children and during the Winter there will be from time to time distribution of stockings and mittens and underwear.

REPORTING IS OFFICIAL

Counsel for Uncle to Oppose
Entrance of Girl's Kin
in Supreme Court

The Dorothy Gordon case was finally and officially closed for the present year when Attorney Robert Nasson, counsel for William F. Jardine, Dorothy's guardian, called at the office of Auditor G. A. A. Pevey today and notified him that there will be no more hearings on the case until next January.

Announcement of this new angle of the case, which was brought about by the entrance into the litigation of Mrs. Katherine Higgins, aunt of Dorothy, was exclusively printed yesterday in the Boston American and Attorney Pevey, however, was out of the city. He expected the hearing would be resumed today and a room had been reserved for him at the courthouse.

Attorney Nasson went to Pevey's office and explained all the details of the new developments and made clear why the case will be postponed.

BLOCK DRAIN ON FORTUNE.

The postponement of the case was caused by the entrance of Mrs. Higgins, who has decided that there will be no further drain on the estate of Dorothy for payment of counsel fees or other court expenses. When she attempted to enter the fight Attorney John L. Sheehan, counsel for John D. Gardner, who is fighting to cut Jordine as guardian, objected.

The matter was threshed out before Judge Leggett in the Middlesex Probate Court. Judge Leggett ruled that Mrs. Higgins, as an heir presumptive, could be represented in the Supreme Court. The matter will be argued before Judge Leggett on January 11, 1923.

PAYMENT HELD UP.

Because of the entrance of Mrs. Higgins into the case the court has now decided that no bills of any kind relative to the case will be paid out of the Dorothy Gordon estate until the entire case is finally settled. Not even the $100 bill of the stenographer who reported the testimony before Attorney Pevey will be paid out of that estate.

FULL BENCH TO RULE.

Attorney Sheehan also argued that the scope of the hearing before Attorney Pevey be allowed to cover the entire case and that he be allowed to call Mrs. Higgins as a witness. He also argued that nothing but the accounts should be taken before the Supreme Court. The time of payment of bills will also be decided before the full bench early in January. Meanwhile the hearing before Attorney Pevey will be held up.

The question before Judge Leggett was as to the time of payment of bills. Judge Leggett, according to Dr. Prentiss, who presides over the case, said that no more could be paid till the end of the hearing. Attorney Sheehan has appeared on that point.

The bills referred to included all costs, including counsel fees, but the particular matter brought before the court was the bill for a stenographer's bill for $100 which was paid now.

YALE FAVORITE OVER HARVARD IN BIG GRIDIRON CLASSIC

80,000 TO CHEER IN PRINCETON BATTLE

By CHARLES E. PARKER.
New Haven, Ct., Nov. 24—The annual million-dollar football game is at hand.

Tomorrow afternoon, in the world's most colossal athletic contest, the Yale Bowl, the gridiron elevens of Harvard and Yale meet in battle with 800,000 wildly-partisan spectators applauding from its terraced banks.

Already a considerable portion of that huge throng has arrived in the City of Elm and every incoming train adds its quota to the multitude. Not a room is available in the hotels of the city or in those of its surrounding hamlets, and the train hours in the many restaurants and dining places are all jammed into one daylong stretch.

Hours ago garage space was at a premium, and now almost every street finds costly motor equipage lining each side. Everywhere the one subject of conversation is The Game.

There is something about these three words that means more than any other similar combination. The thrilling, the exciting, the tremendous crowd yowling for their side, and the immense amount of money involved in its result, have all been the subject of the world's press since the first of the season.

Investment in Tickets Also Is Quarter of a Million

In tickets alone the monetary investment of this game will total more than $250,000, and that amount is but a drop in the bucket of the money that is being and will be dumped in this fair village, or scattered along the wave leading here.

The railroad fares and motor and gasoline costs involved in making the journey from west and distant points will represent many times the amount spent in tickets. The hotels, restaurants, taverns and incidental charges that must be paid by many of the great throngs, again will add mightily to the grand total, and were one to figure in the fur, the fur, the bottles, the hoosh, the supplies, etc., purchased expressly for use at the game, the grand total would prove a staggering sum.

Eliminate the trimmings and consider the typical expense account of any of the thousands of spectators who have arrived or are arriving in this City of Elm.

Railroad Fare to and From Hub Will Cost $15

The railroad fare for the trip to and from the hub will cost fifteen dollars or more; the hotel charges, which have been doubled for the occasion, will stand twenty dollars; the motor and gasoline charges, at fifteen dollars more, and the taxi fares and incidental expenses will add another five or ten dollars to the total. Then add the insignificant three dollars that is paid for the ticket, and you find the individual cost per Bostonian, close to sixty dollars.

Some of New Yorkers will show only a slight difference in railroad fare.

Of course, not all the Bostonians and Gothamites will leave their homes until tomorrow morning, and the hotel and restaurant expenses for such will be considerably less than the above amount.

But many of the 80,000 will have come from points more distant than New York or Boston, and but few, instead of paying out three dollars for their ticket, will have paid ten, fifteen or twenty-five dollars. Thus it appears the sixty-dollar figure is a good average, and 80,000 times sixty dollars brings the total necessary expenses very close to the five million figure, already quoted.

Playing to Decide Last of the "Big Three" League

And if you want to get a kick out of this just remember that Yale has been beaten by Iowa and Princeton and tied by the Army, while Harvard has been defeated by Princeton and Brown and that the contest is playing to decide which of the "Big Three" league.

Yale that lure throng and the whacking amount of coin it is spending and will spend before even tomorrow, is much more a tribute to tradition than the grand old game of football.

Not that football of real merit

HARVARD NOT SURE ON TWO POSITIONS

Captain Charles Huell was the quarterback in the Harvard (flow string lineup at the stadium yesterday in the Crimson's final home practice for the last battle of the season against Yale, at the Big Blue Bowl, in New Haven, Conn. That may be taken as an indication that Huell will be in the game at the start, but Coach Fisher has not decided that, or whether he will use Union Chapin or Jack Hammond as a back at the opening of the conflict. Fisher does not definitely say that Harvard will open with Huell as the director of plays and Spalding may be selected, but Huell will play some time and may be held in reserve. In that case Spalding will start. It is reported that Hammond has the call over Chapin. The fact is that Chapin will start, but as the first opportunity will be taken out for Hammond, who will be expected to last through the rest of the afternoon.

and Huell, who are both and appear Huell called the signals. The last game of the season, said it, a smooth running machine. Huell and Chapin are by far the weakest players on the Harvard team. Huell, who will play in place of Spalding, is a weak player, and Chapin, who will play in place of Spalding, is a weak player. Huell and Chapin are by far the weakest players on the Harvard team. Huell, who will play in place of Spalding, is a weak player, and Chapin, who will play in place of Spalding, is a weak player.

Medbury Says That Shell Rimmed Glasses Make You Look Like Someone Else

By John P. Medbury

SHELL-RIMMED glasses are becoming more popular every day and it's getting so now that people who wear them are being mistaken for someone else.

THEY are so popular that all the clerks and stenographers are having their eyes examined in the optical department of the 3 and 14 cent store.

LARGE shell rimmed glasses really improve the looks of most people. They hide so much of the face.

AND then they give you something to do with your nose besides poking it into other people's business.

ONE guy said they came in very handy because he used to be getting in fights all the time before he wore glasses.

OF course, he takes them off once in a while, but he puts them right back on as soon as he gets in an argument.

LOTS of authors wear them so there won't be any doubt as to whether or not they are writers.

THE popular name for these glasses is "Chaucers." The wearer usually buys them on credit and then checks the optician out of his money.

A GOOD many people wear these "spee" to make them look older. This is unnecessary. Much better never wear glasses and nobody ever doubted his age.

NOT only that, but he gives them nine hundred years in white to find out if he was telling the truth.

SOME men claim that their eyes are hurt and they need these "spee" to save their eyes.

THE Boston American will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Men, Embarrassing Moments, in My Life." Address: Embarrassing Moments, Boston American.

In buying a pair of glasses I asked the clerk if she would please take them from the box and wrap them because everyone knew a correct box. Imagine my embarrassment when walking along the street, some one pulled me and said a garter was hanging from my parcel.

ERNESTINE L. KAMPE, 46 Franklin street, Dedham.

YOUR RIGHT—THE LAW WILL ONLY ALLOW ME TO THINK MY OPINION OF HIM!!

WHEN corned beef was sight cents a pound and they gave you ribs away. And it took a mile to drag away a quarter's worth of cabbage.

And barber chairs were made of flint. And chiropodists were called corn doctors. And nobody ever heard of pyorrhea.

And you could get a tooth pulled for a quarter. And the best shoes were only four dollars.

And a suit was twelve bucks. And everybody went home at noon for dinner.

And nobody ate baker's bread. And there weren't many telephones.

And a family bragged if they had a piano. And music lessons were only four bits.

And it was a scandal if you came home in a hack. And the best ice cream had five cents.

It's a Scream! Miss Mary Hubbard jumped out to the cupboard. To get her a pitcher of cream. A mouse on a plate just sat and looked at her. And all Mary did was to scream.

the glasses out of the frame so they can see better.

THEY don't care what happens to the glass as long as they don't lose the rim.

IT isn't what they want to see. It's what they want you to see.

MOST of these rims are made from terra cotta and the tortoiseshell would be broken if they could come back and see some of the faces that they had to give their lives for.

ONE guy said he didn't like to wear these heavy glasses 'til his face felt as made without them.

THERE'S no doubt but who glasses make you look like somebody, but who?

GOOGLES are to a writer what a uniform is to a policeman.

HOWEVER, these glasses are no confined to writers and professional people. The inmates of the county jail are now wearing them. These are the only men who the prisoners get a chance to look out of.

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By R. C. Forbes

Two new financing issues have come up of three business men, including the one or two important shipping men.

Said one of the bankers: "I filed up my collar just before prohibition came in. At first I was quite proud of my stock. I took pride in seeing dividends when my friends came to see me. Two or three times, too, I put a tank in my pocket when going out with friends for a social evening."

"But you know I have gradually come to feel entirely different about the whole business. I would never think now of carrying a tank. I don't take any more pride in having a well-filled collar. The truth is that I would be happier were there not a bottle of anything left in my house, except, perhaps, a little brandy or whiskey for use in case of accidents."

"I don't feel that there's anything to be proud about in handing out liquor, when I reflect that good citizenship calls for the strict enforcement of the law."

Another man spoke in almost the same strain. He is not a little farther. He said that while it was good business for him to do more or less entertaining, at home or at a restaurant, and at his golf club, he has practically given up entertaining altogether for the sake of the law. For quite a while he felt it was "sporting" time to do, and there was always more fun seeking about prohibition. But now he couldn't be so sure of the propriety of breaking the prohibition law in any way whatsoever.

"The case of the shipping men, where he had given most emphatic orders not to break the prohibition law in the slightest degree, and had issued a warning that any employee, no matter how important or unimportant, who disobeyed these orders would be instantly dismissed."

This discussion, which might perhaps strike you as trivial, is not out of a question just to one of the shipping men as to the effect of the new regulations on the liquor from American ships. The shipping man said that he had brought quite a number of cancellations of passage.

Some one asked whether, on the other hand, there were not a great many transactions with ministers, priests, school teachers, church members, etc., who would travel on "wet" ships, and would even go out of their way to travel on ships carrying no liquor.

The shipping man stated that he did not find this to be the case, at least as far as his company was concerned. He emphasized the fact that there was no longer any business in carrying liquor towards American ships, whereas the British and German and British and German companies in variable success to embargo ships of their own nationality.

Incidentally have you ever stopped to consider the effect of the closing of the saloons has helped to bring about in the shipping business, savings bank deposits and the like in this country?
